GLASS SUBMITS

Opposes the Fowler Asset Currency Bill, Which Was Favorably Reported.

NOT ENOUGH PROFIT TO BANKS

To Pass the Bill Would Be to Give the Banks Opportunity to Enlarge Profits.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Representa-tive Carter Glass, of Virginia, has prepared and submitted to the house the report of the minority members of the com mittee on banking and currency in op-position to the Fowler asset currency bill upon which a favorable report has been made. The minority members base their opposition to the passage of the measure upon the ground that "they do not believe the credit notes which it authorizes will be used for real emergency purposes or that the currency thus provided will have any appreciable degree of elasticity." "On the contrary," the report says, "one inevitable consequence of the enactment of this measure would be a permanent inflation of the paper currency to an amount approximating $225,000,000, which would mean in the last analysis, that much additional strain upon an already insufficient amount of money of final redemption." In support of their contention that there is no urgent need for the proposed legislation, the report points out that the national banks in whose behalf this privilege is sought, now issues but sixty-two and one-half per cent, of the bondescent currency authorized by existing law. The report says that the only reply made to this suggestion is the claim that "there is not enough profit to the banks in the bond-secured currency to induce them to issue more notes." Declaring that banks should derive a fair profit on the business they transact and that they are concededly doing this, the report concludes by asking, "why, then, should congress be asked to extend their privileges by enacting a law which will enable them, without bond-security, with a semblance of government guaranty, to issue over $133,009,000 of credit notes, taxed only three per cent, and to be loaned to the people at rates of interest twice, and often thrice, as high as the tax paid.

To do this would simply be to give the government's sanction to a scheme of bank note issue that will enable the banks to increase, by millions of dollars, their already ample profits." authorizes will be used for real emergency purposes or that the currency thus tirely approving of the official acts of the Mayor in the matter under discussion. The adoption of this resolution the Mayor declined, with thanks.

WHAT MAYOR SAYS

"It is a singular fact that when this supposedly important and impressive session had completed all it had to do which concerned the Mayor, it was found that they had no resultant matter to incorporate in their minutes.

"This seems to dispose of any charge that the Mayor's address grew out of anything which occurred in the Finance Committee meeting.

"The iddress before Post "A" of the T. P. A. had an origin of its own, independent of any suggestion but the invitation was brought to the Mayor by two prominent members of that association, who not only invited the address, but moved the subject which was to be discussed. The Mayor's acceptance included the subject which was to be discussed. The Mayor's acceptance included the subject which was Something About the City Government."

Mr. Pollard Talks.

Mr. Pollard Talks.
Councilman H. R. Pollard, Jr., gava out the following statement yesterday in reply to the Mayor's comments on the former's speech in the Council Thursday night:

"I am glad the Mayor ne-knowledges that I know a little something about the city debt. I am glad to say (what was unbecoming in him to say) that d large part of what I know I have gotten from him. I trust to be able to give practicable application of my knowledge. There are some people who cannot do this.

"In regard to his saying that he did not mean what he said about heading a mob, no one who heard the apparent venom with which it was said could help but believe he meant what he said lit when a gentleman apologizes, why, I must gentleman apologizes, why, I must accept it."

Mayor McCarthy would not discuss the statement of Mr. Pollard further than to say it was "rather amusing."

Not All Criticizing.

By no means are all the members t the Council criticizing the Mayor in the other hand, a number of them all to see that any of his recent utter-fall to see that any of his recent utterances justify rebuke.

A prominent Alderman said last high that he saw no cause for any breach between the City Executive and the Council. So far as he was concerned there was none.

Another, who is a strong leader in the upper branch, said he was quite unable to understand how the Council by a rising vote had endorsed the Mayor's speech to the joint session, and the members of the T. P. A., who are known to be conservative men, had taken like action with reference to his address before that body, if either had been so intemperate and contact the conversion of the People's proved the conversion of the People's proved the conversion of the People's mank, of Burlington, with a capital of $50,000

Mayor's remarks were not only ap-plauded from time to time, but when Colonel Harwood made his motion for Colonel Harwood made his motion for a rising vote of thanks, every man in the house arose to his feet, and many of them crowded around the table to congratulate His Honor after the meeting had adjourned.

On the other hand the feeling of restaurants.

sentment against the Mayor is very pronounced in certain quarters, and de-velopments of interest may be anticl-pated in municipal circles within the next few days.

Says There Was Nothing New Brought Out in Recent Investigation.

WASHINGTON, March 2.-E. H. Harriman, who is in Washington for a few days, accompanied by his family, in discussing the recent investigation by the interstate commerce commission in New York, to-day said: "There was not a sizgle new point brought out in the inquiry. It was simply a rehash of matter that was given wide publicity seven years ago. This continual reform agitation to a success. The interstate commerce commission could produce far better resuits if the members would try to co-operate with the business interests of the country instead of antagonizing them.

In view of the unfair methods of the administration as carried out by the interestate compares commission there is administration as carried out by the in-terstate commerce commission, there is no incentive for a man to be successful, but I am sure that in the end the old American spirit of "fair play" will pre-vall. That is more to the purpose than a 'square deal." We may have a "square deal," but unfair play." There seems to be a tendency among all unsuccessful, people to assail those who are success-ful."
